RE: COVID 19 and South Carolina's Juvenile Justice System

Dear Governor McMaster:

Enclosed please find recommendations for improving our state’s response to the plight of youth confined in South Carolina’s institutions operated by the juvenile justice system.

While the recommendations are addressed to the Chief Justice, plainly it will require the cooperation of other agencies and law enforcement to help mitigate the known risks presented by COVID 19 in juvenile institutions. Indeed, your director of the South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice took the lead over two weeks ago to enlist the help of other agencies in the juvenile justice process for aid in limiting the numbers of children confined in its facilities.

You have demonstrated your commitment to meeting the challenges presented by the existence of the virus and its spread through your tireless and commanding leadership. We ask that you bring that same commitment to bear in mitigating the risk the virus poses to children who are all too often out of sight in our justice system.

Sincerely,

John D. "Jay" Elliott, President,
Lawyers Committee for Children’s Rights
